ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY TEACHERS

REPORT ON SALARIES

PAID TO TEACHERS IN CERTAIN UNIVERSITIES, UNIVERSITY COLLEGES, AND INSTITUTIONS OF UNIVERSITY RANK, IN ENGLAND AND WALES, December, 1922.

The Executive Committee of the Association, after making inquiry into the salaries paid to Teachers in Universities and Institutions of University rank, reports as follows :—

1.—Official information has been obtained from 34 separate Institutions, viz., the Universities of Birmingham, Bristol (with the Merchant Venturers' Technical College), Durham (with the College of Medicine and Armstrong College), Leeds, Liverpool, Manchester (with the College of Technology), Sheffield, and London (Bedford College for Women, Birkbeck College, East London College, King's College, School of Economics and Political Science, Royal Holloway College, University College, Westfield College, London School of Medicine for Women, London School of Tropical Medicine, London Hospital, St. Mary's Hospital, St. Thomas's Hospital, and University College Hospital) ; the Imperial College of Science and Technology ; the University Colleges of Exeter, Nottingham, Reading, and Southampton ; the University of Wales comprising the University Colleges of Wales (Aberystwyth), of North Wales (Bangor), of South Wales and Monmouthshire (Cardiff) ; and of Swansea.

2.—The statistics have reference to 1,997 full-time Teachers. Part-time teachers, mechanics and others not engaged in teaching have been excluded.

With regard to Rank the teachers have been arranged in three Groups : (a) Professors, (b) Assistant Professors, Readers, Lecturers, (c) Assistant Lecturers, etc. The nomenclature and grading adopted in the various Institutions still differ so much that it was impossible to group the non-professorial staff according to the system of grading recommended by the Association in its Memorandum (March, 1920). Accordingly Group (b) comprises Grades I. and II. of that system. On the other hand, while Group (c) corresponds generally to Grade III., it should be noted that it includes some Assistant Lecturers who have had more than three years' University service, and who are, in effect, permanent members of the Staff.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF WALES,
CAMBRIAN STREET,
ABERYSTWYTH,
WALES.

10th April, 1933.

DEAR SIR,

The Association of University Teachers, a body fully representative of the staffs of the Civic Universities of England, Wales, and Northern Ireland, has followed for some time past the policy of promoting closer association with Universities in other countries. To this end the International Relations Committee of the Association is making a detailed study of the systems prevailing in the Universities of Europe and America, and in pursuance of this aim the Committee is organising a series of visits of its members to gain a first, hand acquaintance with Universities and university teachers in other lands; two countries, France and Germany, have already been visited, and reports have been issued.

During these investigations the Committee has been deeply impressed with the desirability of drawing university teachers of all countries more closely together and it has been encouraged in this by manifold expressions of a similar desire among colleagues abroad.

The Association has therefore decided, as a first step, to convene a preliminary conference of representatives of such other organisations of university teachers as already exist and, if possible, of other university representatives from countries where such professional bodies have not yet been formed.

This Conference will be held in connection with the Council Meeting of the Association of University Teachers at University College, Exeter (Devonshire) on May 26th — 27th, 1933.

The President and Council of the Association extend a most cordial invitation to your University, and through you to representatives of university life in your country, to nominate one or more persons to represent your country at this Conference. They request that the name or names of those who will attend shall be communicated to the General Secretary of the Association (Professor Douglas Laurie, University College, Aberystwyth, Wales), as soon as may be convenient.
